| | We have had a low turnover of inventory this month and did not bring in much money. Because of our high employee turnover we actually spend less money on salaries. |

5.3 Investment

| | |
|--------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| aggressively | violently, belligerently, destructively, hostilely, forcefully, insistently, assertively, determinedly, |
| | Some people are risk takers and prefer to invest aggressively. His ideas were not well received because he spoke so aggressively. |
| attitude | (n) a feeling about something or someone, manner, outlook, stance, approach, opinion, posture |
| | The new fund manager's attitude changed quickly after the first big downturn in the market. Each investor should assess his or her own attitude toward investment. |
| commit | (v) to consign for future use, to promise, obligate, pledge, promise, constrain, earmark, entrust, entrust, perform |
| | It is a good idea to commit a certain percentage of your income to investments. The stockbroker committed herself to finding the best investments for each client. |
| conservative | cautious, restrained, conventional, conformist, moderate, careful, (n) traditionalist, conformist, (antonym) progressive |
| | Her conservative strategy paid off over the years. Generally, older people should be more conservative in their investing than younger people. |
| fund | (n) an amount of money, an organization that manages money for a particular purpose, account, trust, deposit, stock, (v) supply, stock, bank, subsidize, sponsor, finance |
| | If you have extra funds, talk to your stockbroker about the best place to put them. My stockbroker recommended investing in this fund. |
| invest | (v) to put money into a business or activity with the hope of making more money; to put effort into something, capitalize, participate, devote, endow, provide, authorize |
| | The chief financial officer invested in the stock at a very good time. Don't invest all of your time in just one project. |
| long-term | involving or extending over a long period |
| | The CEO's long-term goal was to increase the return on investment. Long-term investments are not really affected by the daily ups and downs of the stock market. |

| | |
|-----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| portfolio | a list of investments, collection, assortment, case, folder, file |
| | Investors are advised to have diverse portfolios. The investor's portfolio consisted of blue chip company stocks and government bonds. |
| pull out | to withdraw, to stop participating |
| | A lot of people pulled out their money when it became clear that the bank was in trouble. He pulled out of the company and took all of his money with him. |
| resource | assess, valuable things, reserve, store, means, source |
| | If you don't invest in petroleum resources now, you will find that the stock prices will get away from you. The company's most valuable resource was its staff. |
| return | the amount of money gained as profit, gain, benefit, repay, resume |
| | The 44% return on the new stock was far more than the stockbroker had anticipated. Some investors are satisfied with a 15% return, while others want to see a much larger return. |
| wisely | knowledgeable, smartly, astutely, intelligently, cleverly, prudently, eruditely, consciously |
| | If you invest wisely, you will be able to retire early. She wisely followed her stockbroker's advice and took her money out of some bad investments. |

5.4 Taxes

| | |
|-------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| calculation | computation, estimate, control, cunning, computation, reckoning |
| | It took my accountant some time to complete the calculations on my income tax. According to my calculations, I'll owe less money on my income taxes this year. |
| deadline | a time by which something must be finished, time limit, goal, target |
| | The deadline for paying this year's taxes is just two weeks away. My best work is done with strict deadlines. |
| file | to enter into public record, folder, sleeve, dossier, report, case, organizer, categorizer, (v) march, |
| | If you file your taxes late, you will have to pay a find. If you believe the tax preparer gave you incorrect information, you should file a complaint with her boss. |
| fill out | to complete |
| | I usually ask someone to help me fill out my tax form. Don't forget to sign the tax form after you have filled it out. |
| give up | to quit, to stop |
| | He gave up paying an accountant to prepare his tax return and now does it himself with tax preparation software. She is optimistic that she will receive a large tax return. |

| | |
|-------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| joint | (adj) together, shared, combined, cooperative, united, (n) linkage, link, place, coupling, establishment, locale |
| | We opened a joint bank account five years ago. The couple no longer files joint tax returns. |
| owe | to have a debt, to be obligated to pay |
| | People are often surprised to discover that they owe more money in income taxes at the end of the year. As the business grew, the owner paid back loans and owed less money. |
| penalty | punishment, consequence, drawback, forfeit, sentence, fine |
| | Anyone who pays less than they should in taxes will face a penalty. Penalties are imposed to discourage underpayment of taxes by adding a percentage to the taxes you already owe. |
| preparation | the act of making something ready, groundwork, planning, formulation, provision |
| | Income tax preparation can take a long time. It is important to do some preparation on your own before hiring an accountant to work on your tax form. |
| refund | the amount paid back, to give back, repayment, reimbursement, compensation, restore |
| | With the tax refund, we bought two plane tickets. The government will refund any money that you overpaid. |
| spouse | a husband or wife, partner |
| | You can claim your spouse as a dependent on your tax return if he or she doesn't earn an income. My spouse prepares the tax return for both of us. |
| withhold | to keep from, to refrain from, refuse, deny, suppress, reserve |
| | My employer withholds money from each paycheck to apply toward my income taxes. Do not withhold any information from your accountant or he will not be able to prepare your tax form correctly. |

5.5 Financial Statements

| | |
|----------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| desire | to wish for, aspiration, petition, appeal, want, request, |
| | We desire to have our own home. He desires to retire when he becomes forty. |
| detail | (v) to report or relate minutely or in particulars, specify, itemize, particularize, delegate, conscript, designate, assign (n) part, feature, aspect, element, group, unit |
| | The business planner detailed the steps we should follow to write our financial statement. He created a financial statement that detailed every expected expenditure for the next quarter. |
| forecast | (n) a prediction of a future event, guess, conjecture, projection, (v) to estimate or calculate in advance, calculate, anticipate, foretell, predict |

| | |
| | The financial forecast indicates a deficit in the next quarter. Analysts forecast a strong economic outlook. |
| level | (n) height, intensity, a relative position or rank on a scale, (adj) equal, flat, horizontal, (v) flatten, aim, direct We have never had an accountant work at such a sophisticated level before. If you expect your business to start earning at higher levels soon, your financial statement should show that. |
| overall | regarded as a whole, general, complete, total, global, inclusive, whole The company's overall expectations were out of proportion. Overall, our costs are running true to prediction. |
| perspective | a mental view or outlook, view point, proportion, lookout The budget statement will give the manager some perspective on where the costs of running the business are to be found. His accountant gave him some perspective as well as some data on how much he could expect to earn in his first year in business. |
| project | (v) to estimate or predict, protrude, bulge, distend, throw, propel, impel, (n) scheme, We need to project our earnings and expenses in order to plan next year's budget. The director projects that the company will need to hire ten new employees this year. |
| realistic | (adj) tending to or expressing an awareness of things as they really are, truthful, accurate, faithful, genuine, convincing, authentic, sensible, practical, pragmatic, rational He found that an accurate accounting gave him a realistic idea of his business's financial direction. Realistic expectations are important when you review your financial statements. |
| target | (v) to establish as a goal, direct, train, (n) goal, aim, object, focus We targeted March as the deadline for completing the financial statements. Most managers target desired income as the primary criterion for success. |
| translation | expressing something in a different language or form, paraphrase, rendition, interpretation The translation of the statement from Korean into English was very helpful. The accountant was able to provide a translation of the financial terms into language we could all understand. |
| typically | acting in conformity to a type, characteristically, normally, naturally, classically Office expenses typically include such things as salaries, rent, and office supplies. Banks typically require a financial statement before they will lend money to a small business. |
| yield | (n) an amount produced, harvest, profit, (v) to produce a profit, generate, return, concede, grant, relinquish, resign His budget gave him the desired yield: a better indication of his expected profit. The company's investment yielded high returns. |

6. Management Issues

6.1 Property and Departments

| | |
|-----------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| adjacent | next to, neighboring, nearby, contiguous, adjoining, bordering, close |
| | My office is adjacent to the reception area on the 3 rd floor. The office manager found it very efficient to have the copier adjacent to the mail room. |
| collaboration | the act of working with someone, teamwork, partnership, association, cooperation |
| | The manager had never seen such effective collaboration between two groups. We believe that it was our collaboration that enabled us to achieve such favorable results. |
| concentrate | to focus, to think about, deliberate, contemplate, converge, cluster, reduce, distill |
| | In his quiet, corner office, the manager could comfortably concentrate and finish his work. We should concentrate our efforts on the last quarter of the year. |
| conducive | contributing to, leading to, favorable, helpful, encouraging, beneficial |
| | The new office arrangement is much more conducive to work than the dark, depressing space the company had before. Arranging chairs so that participants can see each other easily is conducive to open communication. |
| disruption | interruption, disturbance, distraction, interference, disorder, commotion |
| | If there are no disruptions, the office renovations will be finished this week. The strike caused a disruption in production at the factory. |
| hamper | to impede or interfere, obstruct, hinder, shackle, encumber |
| | When the weight of the freezing rain broke the telephone lines, the telemarketers' jobs were seriously hampered. The lack of supplies hampered our ability to finish on schedule. |
| inconsiderately | rudely, impolitely |
| | The manager inconsiderately scheduled the meeting for late Friday afternoon. He inconsiderately disrupted the meeting by asking a lot of irrelevant questions. |
| lobby | (n) an anteroom, foyer, waiting room, porch, faction, (v) petition, promote |
| | The salesperson waited in the busy lobby for the buyer to see him. The reception area was moved from the lobby of the building to the 3 rd floor. |
| move up | to advance, improve position |
| | As the employee moved up the corporate ladder, she never forgot where she started. In order to move up in the company, employees had to demonstrate their loyalty. |
| open to | receptive to, vulnerable |
| | What I valued most in my previous supervisor was that he was always open to ideas and suggestions. Since the junior executive was still on probation, he was open to much scrutiny and criticism. |

| | |
|----------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| opt | to choose, to decide on, to select, to determine, to decide |
| | The operations manager opted for the less expensive office design. If she opts to join that department, you will be working together. |
| scrutiny | close, careful examination, inspection, analysis, inquiry |
| | After a great deal of scrutiny, the manager decided that the employee's work had improved considerably. He left his old job because he found it difficult to work under the close scrutiny of his boss. |

6.2 Board Meeting and Departments

| | |
|--------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| adhere to | to follow, to pay attention to |
| | The chairman never adhered to his own rules. The best committee members are those who adhere to the time limits and speak only when they have something important to add. |
| agenda | a list of topics to be discussed, outline, itinerary, schedule |
| | The board was able to cover fifteen items on the agenda. The agenda was sent out three weeks ago so that everyone could prepare for the meeting. |
| bring up | to introduce a topic, |
| | Just as the meeting was about to finish, the manager brought up a controversial issue. No one brought up the resignation of the director. |
| conclude | to stop, to come to a decision |
| | The committee members concluded the meeting early so that they could finish their budgets. After long discussions, the board has concluded that the project has to be canceled. |
| go ahead | (v) to proceed with, (n) permission to do something |
| | Five of the six members felt that they should go ahead with the plan. The manager was just waiting for the go ahead from her boss before mailing the report. |
| goal | objective, purpose |
| | Employees are expected to analyze and evaluate their annual goals. The director had to report to the committee that his department would not reach its goal of 35% growth. |
| lengthy | long in time, duration, or distance |
| | After lengthy discussions, the chairperson was reelected for another term. The report was so lengthy that members had to take it home and read it over the weekend. |
| matter | an item, issue, topic of interest |
| | If there are no other matters to discuss, we will conclude the meeting. This is not the place to bring up personal matters. |
| periodically | from time to time |

| | |
|----------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| | The group tried to meet periodically. Periodically, new members were nominated to the committee. |
| priority | something of importance, something that should be done before other things |
| | Since the remaining issues were not a priority, the group decided to move them to the next week's agenda. The manager was ineffective because she was unable to set priorities. |
| progress | a movement forward, to move forward on something, especially work or a project |
| | The executive committee asked each group to present a report showing their progress for the year. Progress is being made on the annual report; we expect to see a finished product by next week. |
| waste | (v) not to use wisely, (n) not worthwhile |
| | Without a leader, the group members wasted time and energy trying to organize by themselves. The meeting wasn't a waste of time, but the members had hopes to accomplish more than they did. |

6.3 Quality Control

| | |
|------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| brand | an identifying mark or label; a trademark |
| | Consumers often buy highly advertised brands of athletic shoes. All brands of aspirin are the same. |
| conform | (v) to match specifications or qualities; imitate, correspond, fit |
| | The quality control manager insisted that every product that left the plant conform to the company's rigorous standards. Our safety standards conform to those established by the government. |
| defect | an imperfection or flaw |
| | Because of the defect in stitching, the entire suit was thrown out. One way to sell a product with a defect is by labeling it as such and reducing the price. |
| enhance | to make more attractive or valuable |
| | The reason behind quality control is to enhance the company's reputation for superior products. A stylish color enhances the appeal of a car. |
| garment | an article of clothing; clothing, dress, vestment, attire, apparel, coat |
| | Every garment must be carefully inspected for defects before it is shipped. The garment workers are accountable for production mistakes. |
| inspect | to look at closely; to examine carefully or officially |
| | A quality control agent who does not inspect every product carefully can ruin his company's reputation. Children's car seats are thoroughly inspected and tested for safety before being put on the market. |
| perceptive | insightful, observant, aware, sensitive, keen, aware, sharp |
| | She always hires good workers because she is very perceptive about people's abilities. It takes a perceptive person to be a good manager. |

| | |
|-----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| repel | to keep away, to fight against |
| | Umbrellas that do not repel water should never be passed through quality control. Faulty products repel repeat customers. |
| take back | to return something; to withdraw or retract |
| | Good quality control significantly limits the number of products taken back for a refund. The quality inspector took the shoddy work back to the assembly line to confront the workers. |
| throw out | to dispose of |
| | It is cheaper to throw out shoddy products than to lose customers. The factory decided to throw out hundreds of lightbulbs that might have been damaged, rather than lose customers. |
| uniformly | in the same way; consistently |
| | The products are checked to make sure they are uniformly packaged before they leave the factory. The food at chain restaurants is uniformly prepared so that customers will always find the same quality at each restaurant. |
| wrinkle | a crease, ridge, or furrow, especially in skin or fabric |
| | A wrinkle that is ironed into a permanent-press product will annoy the consumer each time the garment is worn. A wrinkle in the finish can be repaired more economically before a sale than after. |

6.4 Product Development

| | |
|-----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| anxious | worried, nervous, concerned, restless, fearful, frightened, eager, impatient |
| | The developers were anxious about the sales forecast for the new product. The graphic designers tried to be calm during their presentation, but you could tell they were anxious it would not be well received. |
| ascertain | to discover, to find out for certain, determine, establish, learn |
| | A necessary part of product development is to ascertain whether the product is safe. A customer survey will help to ascertain whether there is a market for the product. |
| assume | to take upon oneself, to believe to be true |
| | The young man felt ready to assume the new responsibilities of his promotion. A company should assume nothing about the market but instead pay close attention to research results. |
| decade | a period of ten years |
| | After a decade of trying, the company finally developed a vastly superior product. Each decade seems to have its own fad products. |
| examine | to interrogate, to scrutinize |

| | |
|----------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| | Before marketing a new product, researchers must carefully examine it from every aspect. Good researchers have to examine every possible option, including some that seem bizarre. |
| experiment | to try out a new procedure or idea, (n) a test or trial |
| | Product developers must conduct hundreds of experiments in their research. After designing a new product, researchers continue experimenting to determine whether it has other uses. |
| logical | formally valid; using orderly reasoning |
| | It is only logical for a research and development team to concentrate on one or two new products at a time. In addition to logical thinkers, a good research and development team should include a few dreamers. |
| research | the act of collecting information about a particular subject |
| | Part of the research the team does is to determine whether similar products are already on the market. For toy manufactures, research can be pure fun. |
| responsibility | a task; duty, charge, obligation, restraint, assignment, commission, dependability, |
| | The product development department has a huge responsibility to be sure that the product is safe, even if used improperly. Another responsibility of product development is to ensure that there will be a demand for the product. |
| solve | to find a solution, explanation, or answer |
| | Researchers find that every time they solve one problem, two more. One of the biggest problems to solve is why people would want to own the new product. |
| supervisor | an administrator in charge, manager, superintendent, director, head, chief |
| | The department supervisor has to balance his department's responsibilities in order to keep the president satisfied with its progress. A good supervisor gets his team to work with him, not just for him. |
| systematically | methodically, following a system |
| | Once the creative development is completed, the department works systematically toward making the idea a reality. While creative thinking is necessary, analyzing a problem systematically is indispensable. |

6.5 Renting and Leasing

| | |
|--------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| apprehensive | anxious about the future, uneasy, nervous, fearful, hesitant, frightened, concerned |
| | Most new home buyers are apprehensive about their decision. The mortgage lender was apprehensive about the company's ability to pay. |
| circumstance | a condition, a situation |

|------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| | Under the current economic circumstances, they will not be able to purchase the property. If the circumstances change in the near future and we have new properties, we will be sure to call you. |
| condition | the state of something; a requirement |
| | Except for some minor repairs, the building is in very good condition. There are certain conditions that are unique to leasing a property. |
| due to | because of, |
| | Due to the low interest rates, good office space is difficult to find. He didn't believe that the low prices were due only to the neighborhood. |
| fluctuate | to go up and down, to change |
| | No one is very comfortable investing in real estate while property prices are fluctuating so much. Prime business areas fluctuate with local economies, crime rates, and cost of living indices. |
| get out of | to escape, to exit |
| | The agent was not sure if the executives could get out of their prior real estate arrangement. The company wanted to get out of the area before property values declined even further. |
| indicator | a sign, a signal |
| | If the economy is an accurate indicator, rental prices will increase rapidly in the next six months. The results of the elections were seen as an important indicator of the stability in the area. |
| lease | (n) a contract to pay to use property for an amount of time, (v) to make a contract to use property |
| | With the lease expiring next year, they need to start looking for a new location as soon as possible. They decided to lease the property rather than buy it. |
| lock into | to commit; to be unable to change |
| | The company locked itself into a ten-year lease that they didn't want. Before you lock yourself into something, check all your opinions. |
| occupy | to dwell or reside in |
| | Tenants are usually allowed to occupy their space beginning on the first day of the month. Our company has occupied this office for more than 5 years. |
| subject | under legal power; dependent |
| | This contract is subject to all the laws and regulations of the state. The go-ahead to buy is subject to the president's approval. |
| tenant | a person who rents property; lodger; lessee; resident |
| | Property owners want tenants who are respectful of their neighbors and pay their rent on time. The new tenant wants to move in before the first of the month. |

7. Restaurants and Events

7.1 Selecting a Restaurant

| | |
|------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| appeal | the ability to attract, plea, charm, attract, request |
| | A restaurant with good food and reasonable prices has a lot of appeal. The pleasing décor and friendly waiters are what give that restaurant its appeal. |
| compromise | (n) a settlement of differences, (v) to settle differences |
| | The couple made a compromise and ordered food to take out. He doesn't like sweet dishes so I compromised by adding just a small amount of sugar. |
| daringly | bravely, boldly, audaciously, courageously |
| | We daringly ordered the raw squid. He daringly asked to see the menu in French. |
| delicious | tasty, good to eat, appetizing, yummy |
| | This restaurant is famous for its delicious soups. The fish stew wasn't as delicious as we had expected it to be. |
| familiar | often encountered or seen, common, acquainted, conversant, accustomed, recognizable, well-known |
| | It is nice to see some familiar items on the menu. The chef blends the familiar tastes with the unusual. |
| guide | one who leads, directs, or gives advice |
| | The guide led our tour group to a small restaurant only known to the locals. I don't know where to go, so why don't we consult the guide. |
| majority | the greater number of part |
| | The majority of the group wanted to try the new Chinese restaurant. Claude was in the majority, so he was very pleased with the decision. |
| mix | to combine or blend into one mass, (n) combination |
| | The daring chef mixed two uncommon ingredients. The mix of bright colors on the plate was very pleasing. |
| rely | to have confidence in, to depend on |
| | You can rely on that website to give accurate restaurant reviews. I seldom rely on the restaurant reviews in the paper when choosing a restaurant. |
| secure | to get possession of; to obtain, (adj) safe, confident, closed, dependable, (v) obtain, fix, fortify, guarantee |
| | Despite the popularity of the restaurant, he was able to secure reservations for this evening. The hostess secured us another chair, so we could eat together. |
| subjective | particular to a given person; highly personal; not objective |
| | Food preferences are subjective and not everyone agrees on what tastes good. The reviews on this website are highly subjective but fun to read. |
| suggestion | a proposal, evocation, implication, advice |

| | |
|--|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| | Can I make a suggestion about what to order? We followed the waiter's suggestion and ordered one of the specials. |
|--|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

7.2 Eating Out

| | |
|------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| appetite | desire to eat, hunger, craving, taste, eagerness, inclination |
| | The delicious smells coming from the restaurant kitchen increased my appetite. People generally have a good appetite after a long day of work. |
| complete | to finish or make whole, whole, absolute, total, finished |
| | We ordered some dessert to complete our meal. Some restaurants want to hear their customers' opinions and ask them to complete a short evaluation form. |
| excite | to arouse an emotion, stimulate, enthuse, motivate, incite, agitate |
| | Exotic flavors always excite me. The new Asian restaurant has excited the interest of many people. |
| flavor | a distinctive taste, relish, additive, |
| | Fusion cooking is distinguished by an interesting mix of flavors. The cook changed the flavor of the soup with a unique blend of herbs. |
| foreign | of another country, unfamiliar |
| | It is fun to try the local food when traveling in a foreign country. The ingredients in this dish are foreign to me; I have never tried any of them before. |
| ingredient | an element in a mixture, component, constituent, factor, part |
| | The chef went to the farmer's market to select the freshest ingredients for tonight's menu. I was unfamiliar with some of the ingredients in the dish. |
| judge | to form an opinion, (n) magistrate, critic, moderator, (v) arbitrate, estimate, assess, consider, pronounce |
| | He was not familiar with Asian cooking, so he was unable to judge if the noodles were cooked correctly. The restaurant review harshly judged the quality of the service. |
| mix-up | a confusion, |
| | There was a mix-up in the kitchen so your order will be delayed. There was a mix-up about the ingredients and the dish was ruined. |
| patron | customer, especially a regular customer, supporter, sponsor, donor |
| | Once the word was out about the new chef, patrons lined up to get into the restaurant. This restaurant has many loyal patrons. |
| predict | to state, tell about, or make known in advance, forecast, foretell, prophesy |

| | |
|----------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| | I predicted this restaurant would become popular and I was right. He was unable to predict what time she, who is always late, would show up at the restaurant. |
| randomly | without any specific pattern, arbitrarily, erratically, unintentionally |
| | We randomly made our selections from the menu. That chef chooses his spices randomly, but his dishes always tastes great. |
| remind | to cause to remember, retell, recap |
| | She was annoyed at having to remind the waitress to bring the check. I reminded the client that we are meeting for dinner tomorrow. |

7.3 Ordering Lunch

| | |
|------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| burden | a responsibility, something that is carried |
| | The secretary usually takes on the burden of ordering lunch for business meetings. The deliveryman's back ached from the heavy burden he carried. |
| commonly | usually, habitually |
| | The people who work in this building commonly order their lunch from the sandwich shop on the first floor. The restaurants in this area commonly server office workers and are only open during this week. |
| delivery | the act of conveying or delivering, (n) distribution, conveyance, supply, release, provision, |
| | The caterer hired a courier to make the delivery. The restaurant is reluctant to make deliveries, but makes an exception for our office. |
| elegance | refinement, beauty, grace |
| | The elegance of the restaurant made it a pleasant place to eat. A sandwich may lack elegance, but it makes a convenient and inexpensive lunch. |
| fall to | to become one's responsibility |
| | The task of preparing the meal fell to the assistant chef when the chief chef was ill. The menu was in French, so ordering for us fell to Monique, who spoke French. |
| impress | to affect strongly, often favorably |
| | I was impressed with how quickly they delivered our lunch. If you want to impress the new staff members, order her a nice lunch. |
| individual | by or for one person; special; particular, (adj) separate, discrete, singular, unusual, distinctive |
| | We had the delivery man mark the contents of each individual order. The jaunty whistle of the delivery woman marked her individual style. |
| multiple | having, relating to, or consisting of more than one part; manifold, compound |
| | The delivery person was not able to keep track of the multiple orders, causing a food mix-up. It takes multiple steps to get into this building, which frustrates all our employees. |
| narrow | to limit or restrict, thin, slim, fine, slight, tight |
| | She narrowed the restaurant possibilities down to three. This restaurant delivers only pizza and sandwiches, so that certainly narrows down the choices. |

| | |
|------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| pick up | to take on passengers or freight; |
| | The delivery man picks up lunch orders on his motor scooter. If you ask me nicely, I will pick up the order on my way home. |
| reasonable | fairly priced, fair in quality |
| | I usually have lunch at the company cafeteria because of the convenient location and the reasonable prices. The lunches at this place are not top quality, but they are reasonable. |
| settle | to make compensation for, to pay, to choose |
| | We settled the bill with the cashier. After much debate, we finally settled on the bistro on the corner. |

7.4 Cooking as a Career

| | |
|-------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| accustom | to become familiar with, to become used to; familiarize, acclimate, adapt |
| | Chefs must accustom themselves to working long hours. It can be hard to accustom oneself to eating new types of food. |
| apprentice | a student worker in a chosen field, trainee, novice, intern |
| | Instead of attending cooking school, Raul chose to work as an apprentice with an experienced chef. The cooking school has an apprentice program that places students in restaurants to gain work experience. |

| dimension | a measure of width, height, breadth, or length, aspect, facet |
| | What are the dimensions of the ballroom? We need the dimensions of the meeting rooms before we can determine how many chairs each will hold. |
| event | an organized occasion, affair, episode, result, consequence, aftermath, outcome |
| | The spring conference is our biggest yearly event. This hotel is a popular place for events because of its beautiful location. |
| exact | characterized by accurate measurements or inferences; precise, accurate; (v) demand, obtain |
| | We will need an exact head count by noon tomorrow. The exact measurements of the room are unknown, but we can guess. |

| | |
|-----------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| general | involving only the main features rather than precise details |
| | We have a general idea of how many guests will attend. In general, about half the guests will bring their spouses. |
| ideally | perfectly, conforming to an ideal |
| | Ideally, the location for the concert would have plenty of parking. She explained that ideally her wedding would take place on the beach, but she realized it might be difficult to arrange. |
| lead time | the time between the initial stage of a project and the appearance of results |
| | The lead time for reservation is unrealistic. We will need to give the caterer enough lead time to cut the cake. |
| proximity | the state, quality, sense, or fact of being near or next to; closeness |
| | The fans were worried by the proximity of the storm clouds. An important factor in selecting the site was its close proximity to a parking garage. |
| regulate | to control, order, adjust, legalize, police |
| | The state strictly regulates the preparation of food for public consumption. The site staff closely regulates how many cars can be brought on the grounds. |
| site | a place or setting |

| | Please proceed directly to the baggage arrival area to claim your luggage. Lost luggage can be claimed at the airline office. |
| delay | to postpone until a later time, pause, suspend, adjourn |
| | The bus was delayed due to inclement weather. The heavy traffic delayed our arrival at the train station. |
| depart | to go away or leave; to vary from a regular course of action |
| | After the wedding, the married couple departed for their honeymoon in Morocco. We're going to depart from our usual policy and allow you to leave work early one day a week. |
| embarkation | the process of getting on a plane or ship |
| | Cruise passengers are given a pass for embarkation when they check in at the dock. The flight crew must check the passenger's documents before embarkation. |
| itinerary | a proposed route for a journey, showing dates and means of travel |
| | He planned his itinerary after visiting several travel websites. I had to change my itinerary when I decided to add two more countries to my vacation. |
| luggage | suitcases, baggage |
| | Airlines often limit the amount of luggage each person is allowed to carry. Traveling is a lot easier if you bring less luggage with you. |

| | |
|----------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| prohibit | to forbid by authority or to prevent; ban, exclude, proscribe, disallow |
| | The bus company prohibits people without tickets from boarding the bus. Airline regulations prohibit the passengers from having beverages open during takeoff and landing. |
| valid | having legal efficacy or correctness, usable, authorized, indorsed, convincing, rational |
| | I need to make certain that my passport is valid if we plan to go overseas this December. These tickets are no longer valid after the date printed on the back. |

8.2 Airlines

| | |
|-------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| deal with | phrase, to attend to, to manage, to see to |
| | Ticket agents must deal courteously with irate customers. Sick passengers, frightened children, and rude pilots are just a few of the things cabin attendants have to deal with. |
| destination | the place to which one is going or directed |
| | The Greater Barrier Reef is a popular tourist destination this year. Once you have determined your desired destination, we can work toward getting the best airfare. |
| distinguish | to make noticeable or different; differentiate, discriminate, characterize, discern, recognize |
| | She was able to distinguish between the different types of jets on the runway. This airline has distinguished itself as one of the most reliable in the business. |
| economize | to be careful about spending money; save |
| | Since I like to economize when I travel, I always do a thorough Internet search for the best airline ticket prices. We decided to economize this year and take our vacation during the off season, when prices are lower. |
| equivalent | equal, alike, parallel, corresponding |
| | He used the Internet to search for hotels of equivalent dollar value to the one recommended. The food the airline serves in coach class is equivalent to that served in first class. |
| excursion | a pleasure trip; a trip at a reduced fare |
| | With some time between meetings in London, the company president enjoyed an excursion to Stonehenge. The finance officer was pleased to find an excursion for the entire consulting team. |
| expense | something requiring payment; expenditure, cost, payment, price, sacrifice |
| | A luxury vacation involves many expenses. If we keep our expenses down, we might have enough money to take a longer trip. |
| extend | to make longer, spread, prolong, increase |
| | The delayed flight extended our wait in the airport. We enjoyed the beach so much that we extended our stay another day. |

| | |
|---------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| prospective | likely to become or be; potential, likely, probable |
| | Airlines advertise on travel websites in order to attract prospective customers. I narrowed my list of prospective destinations to my three top choices. |
| situation | the combination of circumstances at a given moment |
| | The airline suggested I check with the State Department regarding the political situation in the country I am flying to. The vast number of different airfares available makes for a complicated situation. |
| substantially | significantly, considerably, noticeably, greatly |
| | The airline I work for had a substantially higher rating for customer satisfaction than our competitors had. The airfares charged by different airlines are not substantially different. |
| system | a functionally related group of elements; scheme, organization, structure, method, orderliness |
| | The airline system covers the entire world with flights. We need a better system to keep track of how much money we are spending on this vacation. |

8.3 Trains

| | |
|---------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| comprehensive | covering broadly; inclusive |
| | The conductor has a comprehensive knowledge of rail systems from all over the world. You can get a comprehensive travel package, including rail passes, if you visit the travel company's website. |
| deluxe | noticeably luxurious; sumptuous; expensive |
| | My parents decided to splurge on deluxe accommodations for their trip The train station is not near any of the deluxe hotels, so we will have to take a taxi. |
| directory | a book or collection of information or directions |
| | We consulted the directory to see where the train station was located. He found the telephone number for the local train station in the telephone directory. |
| duration | the time during which something lasts |
| | She lent me her spare jacket for the duration of the trip. Despite our personal differences, my roommate and I agreed to be as pleasant as possible for the duration of the train ride. |
| entitle | to allow or qualify; label, authorize, designate |
| | During the holiday rush, a train ticket entitled the passenger to a ride, but not necessarily a seat. The mess the train line made of his sleeping room reservations entitled him to a free upgrade to a better room. |
| fare | the money paid for transportation; charge, tariff, fee |
| | The train fare has increased since I rode last. Pay your fare at the ticket office and you will get a ticket to board the train. |
| offset | to counterbalance, counterweigh, equipoise, equalizer, compensation, counterpoise |

|------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| | The high cost of the hotel room offset the savings we made by taking the train instead of the plane. By reducing her transportation costs once in the United States, she offset the cost of getting to this country. |
| operate | to perform a function; run, maneuver, function, manage |
| | The train operates on a punctual schedule. The train only operates in this area at the height of the tourist season. |
| punctually | promptly; on time |
| | Please be on time; the train leaves punctually at noon. The train usually arrives punctually; I cannot imagine what is delaying it today. |
| relatively | somewhat; comparatively, reasonably |
| | The train is relatively empty for this time of day. The train station has been relatively busy for a weekday. |
| remainder | the part that is left; leftover |
| | The Alaskan frontier has train service in the summer, but for the remainder of the year the tracks are impassable. We will move you to a less expensive room and credit the remainder of what you've already paid to your charge card. |
| remote | far away; not close to populated areas |
| | I was surprised to find train service to such a remote location. We took the train out of the city and found a remote hotel in the country for the weekend. |

8.4 Hotels

| | |
|----------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| advanced | highly developed; at a higher level |
| | Since the hotel installed an advanced computer system, all operations have been functioning more smoothly. He has been promoted to assistant manager and he is happy with his advanced position. |
| chain | a group of enterprises under a single control |
| | Budget-priced hotel chains have made a huge impact in the industry. The hotel being built in Daegu is the newest one in the chain. |
| check in | to register at a hotel; to report one's presence |
| | Patrons check in at the hotel immediately upon their arrival. To know that the conference guests have arrived, we ask them to check in at the registration desk. |
| confirm | to make definite; settle, authorize, endorse, ratify, corroborate, verify, prove |
| | He contracted the hotel to confirm his room reservation. We expected that the bed linens would be changed daily. |

| | |
|-------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| expect | to consider probable or reasonable; imaging, anticipate, envisage |
| | You can expect a clean room when you check in at a hotel. He expected that the bed linens would be changed daily. |
| housekeeper | someone employed to do domestic work |
| | Her first job at the hotel was a housekeeper and now she is the manager. The desk clerk is sending the housekeeper to bring more towels to your room. |
| notify | to report, inform, alert |
| | The notified the hotel that they had been delayed in traffic and would be arriving late. She noticed the hotel in writing that she was canceling her reservation. |
| preclude | to make impossible, to rule out |
| | The horrible rainstorm precluded us from traveling any further. The unexpected cost of the room precluded a gourmet dinner for the travelers. |
| quote | to give exact information on, quotation |
| | We were quoted a price of $89 for the room for one night. Call ahead and get a price quote for a week-long stay. |
| rate | the payment or price according to a standard |
| | The rate for the hotel room is too high considering how few services are available on-site. The sign in the lobby lists the seasonal rates. |
| reservation | an arrangement to set something aside |
| | I know I made a reservation for tonight, but the hotel staff has no record of it in the system. It is difficult, if not impossible, to get reservations at this hotel at the height of the summer season. |
| service | useful functions, facility, overhaul, help, provision, amenity, (v) repair |
| | The hotel has a number of luxury services like the on-site gym, sauna, pool, and beauty salon. He called room service to order a late-night snack. |

8.5 Car Rentals

| | |
|-----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| coincide | to happen at the same time; accord, correspond |
| | My cousin's wedding coincided with a holiday weekend, so it was a perfect time to rent a car and go for a drive. He was hoping that the days for the special discount on car rentals would coincide with his vacation, but they did not. |
| confusion | a lack of clarity, order, or understanding |
| | There was some confusion about which rental discount coupons applied to which car rental agency. To avoid any confusion about renting the car, she asked her travel agent to make the arrangements on her behalf. |

| | |
|------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| contact | to get in touch with |
| | He contacted at least dozen car rental agencies to get the best deal. Last night I was contacted by my travel agent who said he had found a better price on a car rental. |
| disappoint | to fail to satisfy the hope, desire, or expectation of |
| | She was disappointed to discover that no rental cars were available the weekend she wished to travel. I hate to disappoint you, but I can't allow you to rent a car unless you have a major credit card. |
| guarantee | promise, assurance, warranty, (v) assure, ensure, pledge, certify |
| | The rental agency guarantees that all their cars are in good working order. By reserving a car ahead of time, you will be guaranteed the make and model of car that you want. |
| intend | to have in mind |
| | I never intended to drive to Los Angeles until my brother suggested we do it together. Do you intend to return the car to this location or to another location? |
| license | the legal permission to do or own a specified thing |
| | Fist, I'll need to see your driver's license and a major credit card. You will need a license in order to run this business. |
| nervously | in a distressed or uneasy manner |
| | As we approached the city, she started driving nervously, so I volunteered to drive that part of the trip. I looked around nervously the entire time I was in the dark parking garage. |
| request | ask for something politely or formally |
| | When she reserved her rental car, she requested a luxury model. Most rental agencies request that you return the car with a full tank of gasoline. |
| tempt | to be inviting or attractive to |
| | I am tempted by the idea of driving across the country instead of flying. She is tempted to rent the smaller car to save a few dollars. |
| thrill | the source or cause of excitement or emotion |
| | The thought of renting a sports car gave him a thrill. Just taking a vacation is thrill enough, even if we are driving instead of flying. |
| tier | rank or class; level, layer, stage, row, step, story |
| | The car rental company had a few tiers of cars, each one costing more than the previous tier. If you are on a budget, I suggest you think about renting a car from our lowest tier.a |

9. Entertainment

9.1 Movies

| | |
|----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| attainment | achievement, accomplishment, fulfillment, completion, success |
| | The actress received a lot of attention for her many professional attainments. The attainment of an Academy Award validates a performer's career. |
| combine | to come together, syndicate, cartel, conglomerate, harvester, (v) unite, mix, blend |
| | The director combined two previously separate visual techniques. The new production company combines the talents of three of Hollywood's best known teams. |
| continue | to maintain without interruption, last, endure, persist, maintain, prolong, resume |
| | The film continues the story set out in an earlier film. The search for a star will continue until one is found. |
| description | a representation in words or pictures, account, explanation, depiction, narrative |
| | The description of the film did not match what we saw on screen. The critic's description of the film made it sound very appealing. |
| disperse | to spread widely, to scatter, dissolve, diffuse |
| | The reporters dispersed after the press agent cancelled the interview with the film director. The crowd outside the movie premiere would not disperse until they had seen the movie stars. |
| entertainment | a diverting performance or activity, amusement, distraction, fun, recreation, attraction |
| | The movie was provided for our entertainment. There was no entertainment for children of guests at the hotel. |
| influence | to alter or affect, effect, impact, stimulus, power, sway, manipulate, impel, motivate |
| | The editor's style influenced a generation of film editors. The producer was able to influence the town council to allow her to film in the park. |
| range | (n) the scope, variety, selection, scale, breadth, extent, (v) reach, extend, stretch |
| | The range of the director's vision is impressive. What is the price range you are willing to pay for a ticket to the premiere? |
| release | to make available to the public; to give permission for performance |
| | The film was finally released to movie theaters after many delays. The producers of the film are hoping to release it in time for the holidays. |
| representation | exemplification, symbolization |
| | The actor's representation of this character did not seem authentic. The film's representation of world poverty through the character of the hungry child was quite moving. |
| separately | apart, distinctly, disjointedly, discretely, unconnectedly, individually, (ant.) together |

| | |
|------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| | Each scene of the movie was filmed separately from the others. The theater was very crowded so we had to sit separately. |
| successive | following in order, consecutive, sequential, continuous |
| | The script went through successive rewrites. Somehow the successive images were interrupted and had to be edited again. |

9.2 Theater

| | |
|------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| action | the series of events that form the plot of a story or play |
| | The director decided that the second act needed more action and asked the playwright to review the work. The action on stage was spellbinding. |
| approach | to go near, to move forward |
| | The performance approaches perfection. The director approached the play from an unusual angle. |
| audience | the spectators at a performance, viewers, listeners, onlookers |
| | The audience cheered the actors as they walked off the stage. The playwright expanded his audience by writing for film as well as for stage. |
| creative | imaginative or artistic, original, inspired, ingenious, innovative |
| | The writer's creative representation of the Seven Deadly Sins was astounding. There are a number of creative people writing for the theater these days. |
| dialogue | a conversation between two or more persons |
| | The actors performed the dialogue without using scripts. The written dialogue seemed great, but was hard to perform. |
| element | fundamental or essential element of live theater |
| | The audience is an essential element of live theater. By putting together all the elements of theater into one play, he overwhelmed the critics. |
| experience | an event or a series of events participated in or lived through |
| | The experience of live theater is very thrilling. Going to the theater was not part of his experience growing up. |
| occur | to take place, to come about, happen, arise, strike, appear |
| | The murder in the play occurs in the second act. It never occurred to me that the wife whom the character referred to was imaginary. |
| perform | to act before an audience, to give a public presentation of |
| | The theater group performed a three-act play. Juan performed the role without forgetting any lines. |

| | |
|----------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| rehearse | to practice in preparation for a public performance; to direct in rehearsal |
| | The players rehearsed for only three weeks before the show opened. The director rehearses with the actors ten hours each day. |
| review | (n) a critical estimate of a work or performance; (v) writing a criticism of a performance |
| | The critic's influential review of the play was so negative that it sank the entire production. The newspaper sent a rank amateur to review the play. |
| sell out | to sell all the tickets |
| | The Broadway opening sold out months in advance. We expect that this play will be a smash and sell out quickly. |

9.3 Music

| | |
|-----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| available | ready for use; willing to serve; obtainable, accessible, existing |
| | In order to understand all the words in the opera, she kept a Italian dictionary available at all times. The website has an amazing variety of music available for downloading. |
| broaden | to make wider, widen, extend, expand, stretch |
| | He wants to broaden his knowledge of opera history. You will appreciate music more if you broaden your tastes and listen to several types of music. |
| category | a division in a system of classification; a general class of ideas |
| | Jazz is one of many categories of music. The works of Mozart are in a category by themselves. |
| disparate | fundamentally distinct or different, dissimilar, unlike, different, contrasting |
| | In the song, the disparate voices hauntingly join a blended chorus. Religious songs cut across disparate categories of music. |
| divide | to separate into parts, gulf, split, segregate, partition |
| | The music class was evenly divided between those who liked country and western music and those who did not. The broad topic of music can be divided into manageable parts, such as themes, styles, or centuries. |
| favor | to be partial to, errand, courtesy, approval, gift, prefer, help, support |
| | He enjoys the works of several composers but he tends to favor Mozart. I would favor an evening at a jazz concert over an evening at the opera any time. |
| instinct | an inborn pattern that is a powerful motivation |
| | The student's ability to play the cello was no natural, it seemed an instinct. The music lover followed his instincts and collected only music that he enjoyed. |
| lively | full of energy |
| | Some people enjoy lively music, whereas others tend to prefer slower types of music. The lively dance was fun but very tiring. |

| | |
|------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| reason | the basis or motive for an action; an underlying fact or cause |
| | We will never understand the reason why some music is so popular and some is not. There is every reason to believe that Beethoven will still be popular in the next century. |
| relaxation | the act of relaxing or the state of being relaxed; refreshment of body or mind |
| | Listening to soothing music before bedtime provides good relaxation. He played the piano for relaxation and pleasure. |
| taste | the ability to discern what is excellent or appropriate; flavor, discrimination, palate, recognize, notice |
| | She had the taste required to select a musical program for the visiting dignitaries. This music does not appeal to my tastes; but I am old-fashioned. |
| urge | (v) to advocate earnestly, advise, beg, appeal, press, drive, push, compel, (n) need, desire |
| | His mother urged him to study the piano; the rest is musical history. Despite my reluctance, my friends urged me to attend an opera. |

9.4 Museums

| | |
|------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| acquire | to gain possession of; to get by one's own efforts |
| | The museum acquired a van Gogh during heavy bidding. The sculptor acquired metalworking skills after much practice. |
| admire | to regard with pleasure; to have esteem or respect for |
| | She, admiring the famous smile, stood before the Mona Lisa for hours. I admire all the effort the museum put into organizing this wonderful exhibit. |
| collection | a group of objects or works to be seen, studied, or kept together |
| | The museum's collection contained many works donated by famous collectors. The museum's collection kept two full-time curators busy. |
| criticism | an evaluation, especially of literary or other artistic works |
| | According to the criticism of the Victorian era, the painting was a masterpiece; now it is considered merely a minor work. The revered artist's criticism of the piece was particularly insightful. |
| express | to give an opinion or depict emotion |
| | The sculptor was able to express his feelings better through the use of clay rather than woods. The photograph expresses a range of emotions. |
| fashion | the prevailing style or custom, trend, shape, taste |
| | According to the fashion of the day, the languid pose of the sculpture was high art. The museum's classical architecture has never gone out of fashion. |

| | |
|-------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| leisure | freedom from time-consuming duties; free time |
| | The woman took up painting in her retirement, when she had more leisure time. Spending a day at an art museum is a form of leisure that many people enjoy. |
| respond | to make a reply, to react, retort, counter |
| | You should respond to the invitation to attend the museum gala. The visitors who viewed those poignant photographs responded emotionally. |
| schedule | to enter in a planner or diary, agenda, timetable, roster, program |
| | We didn't schedule enough time to see all the exhibits that we were interested in. The museum is scheduling a collection of works by Japanese masters. |
| significant | meaningful, having a major effect, important |
| | The use of lambs to symbolize innocence is significant in Western art. The rash of new acquisitions represented a significant change in the museum's policies. |
| specialize | to concentrate on a particular activity, specify, focus, dedicate oneself |
| | The art historian specialized in Navajo rugs. The museum shop specializes in Ming vases. |
| spectrum | a range of related qualities, ideas, or activities |
| | The painting crosses the spectrum from symbolic to realistic representation. The whole spectrum of artistic expression was represented in the exhibit. |

9.5 Media

| | |
|------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| assignment | something, such as a task, that is assigned, duty, obligation, mission, position, appointment, |
| | This assignment has to be turned in before midnight. When the reporter is on assignment, research piles up on her desk. |
| constantly | continually, regularly, persistently, ceaselessly, perpetually |
| | An advantage of Internet news reports is that they can be constantly updated. People constantly look to the news to keep up-to-date on what's going on in the world. |
| constitute | to be the elements or parts of; establish, comprise, organize, compose |
| | All the different news sources constitute the media industry. A talented staff, adequate printing facilities, and sufficient distribution points constitute a successful newspaper. |
| decision | judgment or choice, verdict, determination, resolve |
| | The court made the decision to allow the newspaper to print the controversial story. Newspaper editors often have to make quick decisions about which stories to publish. |

| | |
|-------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| disseminate | to scatter widely; to distribute |
| | The Internet disseminates news more quickly than any newspapers, TV, or the radio can. The computer virus was disseminated through the newsroom by reporters sharing terminals. |
| impact | a strong, immediate impression; influence, effect |
| | The story of the presidential scandal had a huge impact on the public. The impact of the news coverage is yet to be known. |
| in-depth | in complete detail; thorough |
| | The newspaper gave in-depth coverage of the tragic bombing. His in-depth story on the spread of the disease received praise from many of his colleagues. |
| investigate | to uncover and report hidden information |
| | Reporters need to thoroughly investigate the facts before publishing their stories. His editor sent him to the capital to investigate the story behind the government scandal. |
| link | an association, a relationship |
| | The computer links will take you to today's headlines. The father-daughter team of reporters is just one example of many family links at this newspaper. |
| politician | a person involved in government activities |
| | The news media cover the activities of all the major politicians. The politician refused to talk to reporters about her private life. |
| subscribe | to receive a periodical regularly on order |
| | She subscribes to a gardening magazine. Many people have stopped subscribing to newspapers because they prefer to read the news online. |
| thorough | exhaustively complete, detailed, meticulous, absolute, complete |
